Munificent Gift of George Peabody for Southern Education.

In connection with Mr. George Peabody's latest munificent gift, the following letter will explain itself:

To the Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, of Massachusetts, Hon. Hamilton Fish, of New York, Rt. Rev. Charles P. McIlvaine, of Ohio, General U. S. Grant, of the United States Army, Hon. William C. Rives, of Virginia, and others:

GENTLEMEN: I beg to address you on a subject which occupied my mind long before I left England, and in regard to which one at least of you—Hon. Mr. Winthrop—the honored and valued friend to whom I am so much indebted for cordial sympathy, careful consideration, and wise counsel in this matter, will remember that I consulted him immediately upon my arrival in May last. I refer to the educational needs of those portions of our beloved and common country which have suffered from the destructive ravages and not less disastrous consequences of civil war. With my advancing years my attachment to my native land has become more devoted. My hope and faith in its successful and glorious future have grown brighter and stronger; and, now, looking forward beyond my stay on earth, as may be to one who has passed the limit of three score and ten years, I see our country united and prosperous, emerging from the clouds which still surround her, taking a higher rank among the nations and becoming richer and more powerful than ever before. But to make its prosperity more than superficial, her moral and mental development should keep pace with her material growth; and in those portions of our nation to which I have referred the urgent and pressing physical needs of an almost impoverished people must for some years preclude them from making, by unaided effort, such advances in education and such progress in the diffusion of knowledge among all classes that every lover of his country must earnestly desire.

I feel most deeply, therefore, that it is the duty and privilege of the more favored and wealthy portions of our nation to assist those who are less fortunate; and with the wish to discharge, so far as I may be able, my own responsibility in this matter, as well as to gratify my desire to aid those to whom I am bound by so many ties of attachment and regard, I give to you, gentlemen, most of whom have been my personal and especial friends, the sum of one million of dollars, to be by your successors held in trust, and the income thereof used and applied in your discretion for the promotion and encouragement of intellectual, moral or industrial education among the young of the more destitute portions of the Southwestern States of our Union, my purpose being that the benefits intended shall be distributed among the entire population without other distinction than their needs and the opportunities of usefulness to them. Besides the income thus devised, I give you permission to use from the principal sum within the next two years an amount not exceeding 40 per cent. In addition to this gift I place in your hands bonds of the State of Mississippi issued to the Planter's Bank, and commonly known as Planter's Bank bonds, amounting with interest to about $1,100,000, the amount realized by you from which is to be added to and used for the purposes of this trust. These bonds were originally issued in payment for stock in the bank held by the State, and amounted in all to only $2,000,000. For many years the State received large dividends from that bank over and above the interest on these bonds. The State paid the interest without interruption till 1840, since which no interest has been paid except a payment of $100,000 which was found in the Treasury applicable to the payment of the coupons, and paid by a mandamus of the Supreme Court. The validity of these bonds has never been questioned, and they must not be confounded with another issue of bonds made by the State to the Union Bank, the recognition of which has been a subject of controversy with a portion of the population of Mississippi. Various acts of the Legislatures, viz.: of Feb. 28, 1842, Feb. 23, 1844, Feb. 16, 1846, Feb. 28, 1846, March 4, 1848, and the highest judicial tribunal of the state have confirmed their validity, and I have no doubt that at an early day such legislation will be had as to make these bonds available in increasing the usefulness of the present trust. Mississippi, though now depressed, is rich in agricultural resources, and cannot long disregard the moral obligations resting upon her to make provision for their payment.

In confirmation of what I have said in regard to the legislative and judicial action concerning the State bonds issued to the Planter's Bank, I herewith place in your hands the documents marked A. The details and organization of the trust I leave with you, only requesting that Mr. Winthrop may be Chairman and Governor Fish and Bishop McIlvaine Vice Chairmen of your body. And I give to you power to make all necessary by-laws and regulations, to obtain an act of incorporation, if any shall be found expedient, to provide for the expenses of the trustees and of any agents appointed by them, and generally to do all such acts as may be necessary for carrying out the provisions of this trust. All vacancies occurring in your number by death, resignation or otherwise shall be filled by your election as soon as conveniently may be, and having in view an equality of representation as far as regards the Northern and Southern States, I furthermore give to you the power, in case two-thirds of the trustees shall at any time after the lapse of thirty years deem it expedient, to close this trust, and of the funds which at this time shall be in the hands of yourselves and your successors, to distribute not less than two-thirds for such educational purposes as they may determine in the States for whose benefit the income is now appointed to be used; the remainder may be distributed by the Trustees for educational or literary purposes wherever they may deem it expedient. In making this gift, I am aware that the fund derived from it can but aid the States which I wish to benefit in their own exertions to diffuse the blessings of education and morality; but if this endowment shall encourage those now anxious for the light of knowledge and stimulate to new efforts the many good and noble men who cherish the highest purpose of placing our great country foremost, not only in power but in the intelligence and the virtue of her citizens, it will have accomplished all that I can hope.—With reverent recognition of the need of the blessing of a mighty God upon my gift and with the fervent prayer that under His guidance your counsels may be directed for the highest good of present and future generations in our beloved country, I am, gentlemen, with great respect,

Your humble servant,
GEORGE PEABODY.

Washington, Feb. 7, 1867.

The Paris Exposition.

From the London Star.

Morocco will be represented by a grand Imperial tent of silk and gold, surrounded by several smaller tents, fountains, plantations, and agricultural implements. Japan exhibits a house in lacquer work; the pavilions are actually en route for France. The Kings of Siam have sent over native workmen, who are building stabling for horses and elephants, one of the latter of which at least, it is to be hoped, will be white.

M. Chapan is superintending the construction of the Chinese Pavilion, the plan of which is copied from one actually existing at Pekin, in the pleasure garden of the Emperor of All the Celestials. Four Chinese and their respective wives are to inhabit it. The roof will be covered by shore grass and flower-beds, and here Chinese ladies will cook bird's nest soup, make tea, &c., in order to convey to us an idea of culinary art in the Celestial Empire. The servants of these fair Celestials will be lodged in a kiosk behind the grand pavilion, the lower story of which is to be devoted to Chinese theatrical art, a troupe of native actors being engaged for the exhibition season, who are probably at this very moment studying the last "decided success" at "His Celestial Majesty's" at Pekin, wherewith to astonish the frequenters of the Francais or the Odeon.

The Bouliah Museum and the magnificent temple to Athor will represent ancient Egypt.—An akel, to be inhabited by fifty Egyptian men and women, will convey an idea of modern life on the Nile, as every sort of trade will be carried on within the walls of this vast edifice. A salamlie is to be built for the Viceroy during his visit to the exhibition. One thousand square meters have have been handed over to the Russian commission, which is to be lodged in a splendid wooden edifice, such as the rich Boyards of the South inhabit during the summers. The chimney-pieces are in terra cotta, and bear the national device of a reversed "Marquite."—Next to this is erected an isba, or Giner's house, built in red deal, the outside walls of rough trunks of trees stripped of their bark, the ground floor to be divided into stables, the staircase running outside of the house. A collection of farm vehicles, in the decoration and carving of which the Russian Moujik sets all his pride, are to be likewise exhibited. A smaller dwelling of white deal will form a sort of porter's lodge. Not a single nail or screw is being used in any of these constructions. The stables are to contain twenty-four thorough-bred Russian horses and ten farm horses. They will stand longitudinally in their separate stalls, so that their peculiar shapes may be seen the better.

Ten Moujiks will inhabit the smaller building. The external walls of this whole group will be richly decorated by wood sculpture, for which Russia is so celebrated. A yourte for a family of nomad Tartars, of a beehive form, without a chimney, and a mat manufactory, will complete this miniature Russian village. Seven Russians, assisted by several French workmen, are busily engaged carrying on the works, under the superintendency of a Russian contractor.

Grace Greenwood on Woman's Political Rights.

"Grace Greenwood," whose name is held in affection in thousands of homes, last week lectured in Chicago on "Heroism in Common Life." In the course of her lecture she alluded to the efforts for the political emancipation of women, and her good tempered remarks are calculated to do more towards removing existing prejudices than are the fierce diatribes of the so-called "strong minded" members of her sex. She said:

Among the heroines of the present day were those who advocated the emancipation of woman. They had sneers and ridicule against them, and had only common sense and health on their side. It requires heroism to advocate it. In her heroic moments she might dream of being a Joan of Arc, but never in her wildest moments of fighting against the tide of prejudice. Young America on the street-corners would conquer her. Speaking of giving the ballot to women, she said (very sweetly and persuasively) that she knew men would grant it to women; they were only holding it out of reach for a little while to tantalize the women. But they must not do so too long. If they did, wives might, for once in their lives, become a little mutinous. Pipes might be broken, and cold coffee, and burned beefsteaks, be common. In fact, husbands would begin to lose the comforts of a home.

She was only in favor of giving the ballot to three classes of women. First, to the unmarried ones who had property; second, to all who had minds of their own; and lastly, to all who wanted it. If necessary, a property qualification could be added. Every woman could be required to have a sewing machine or a washing tub. Or they could have an additional qualification, and require every woman to know how to make a milliner's bill, to read and write, to know how to get new dresses, and be learned enough to never be behind the latest fashion. Or they could have a moral qualification, and not allow any woman to vote who read the New York, Mercury, Police Gazette, accounts of murders and divorce cases, or the President's speeches. A distinguished clergyman of Chicago had said that if women were allowed to vote, the result would be that they would soon be working in the fields like Hungarian women. Another clergyman had said that women should not be allowed to vote, because it would disturb the oneness of married life. To carry out that theory of oneness would produce some very queer results. Women would not be able to go to church unless their husbands did. Such arguments only showed a contempt for women. No one could know the beautiful and unconscious martyrdom of hearts which daily took place. She then gave a beautiful description of such martyrdoms, and pronounced the actors plain, true heroes and heroines. Husbands who returned home from their daily work, and did not find fault, were evidently heroes—there were so few of them. She only know of one perfect husband.

Death of Mrs. General Sickles.

General Sickles was called to New York on Tuesday night by the intelligence of the serious illness of Mrs. Sickles, and the next morning news was received of her death. Mrs. Sickles was the daughter of Professor Bagioli, of New York, and is remembered as one of the most brilliant and fashionable women ever seen in Washington. She was elegantly educated and gifted with the most fascinating manners. She was married to General Sickles very young, and her first appearance, at the heighth of her youthful beauty, during General Pierce's administration, will long be recollected. Since the terrible tragedy with which her name was unhappily connected she has steadily excluded herself from all the circles in which she was at one time a welcome and leading participant. The cause of her death was believed to be the heart disease.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.

The Tribune's Matamoras special of the 7th says: Miramon took the city of Zacatlacas, with two thousand prisoners, and Juarez, who was there, had to leave in a hurry, taking the road to Chihuahua.

A specie train of eight hundred thousand dollars, which left Zacatlacas before Juarez, has probably fallen into the hands of the Imperialists.

It is reported the Liberalists, fourteen thousand strong, have been defeated by nine thousand Imperialists, between San Luis Potosi and Queretaro.

The Times' Washington special says: It is now stated on good authority that the President has become ready to co-operate with Congress in measures to avoid so extreme a resort as is proposed in the Military Government Bill, and that there would be no difficulty in securing his assent to a bill based on the leading principles of the Constitutional Amendment, and at the same time provide for a more vigorous and effective protection of personal rights and liberties in the Southern States than now enjoyed.

The delay in the North Carolina Legislature to act on the Constitutional proposition of the Southern Governors is looked upon in Congress as ominous, as it was expected to pave the way for their admission.

The Herald's special says: The four per cent. loan certificates payable on demand, and made a legal tender for the purpose of bank reserves, will be authorized.

The power to withdraw greenbacks not to exceed four millions will not be taken from the Secretary, but he will suspend action until the compound interest notes shall have been disposed of and the money market is easy.

The friends of the Bankrupt bill are of the opinion that it will now pass. They propose to try it.

The Tribune special says: Mr. Stevens intends calling up his Confiscation bill this week.

It is doubtful whether the Loan bill will be reported to the Senate. Secretary McCulloch is very anxious for an early report.

It is understood that General Grant expresses surprise at the intimations that he approves of the Military Government bill. He deems it unwise, as the provisions would probably bring him into conflict with the Executive, his immediate constitutional superior. He also expressed a conviction that some bill reorganizing civil government, with the military to protect and aid, should be adopted at the earliest moment.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 11.

A bloody affray occurred tonight on Fells streets. Two policemen, named Dobson and Irving, were shot while attempting to arrest a desperate character named Henry Gludy. Both of them will recover. Three pistol shots were fired at Gludy, but without any effect. He was subsequently taken.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.

The ship Roswell Sprague, from Boston, has arrived. The captain, officers and crew, with the exception of two men, are down with the scurvy.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 12.

The River Improvement Convention met in Mercantile Library Hall this morning. It was called to order at 12 o'clock by Mayor Thomas, who, in a brief speech gave the delegates a warm welcome to this city. Rev. Truman M. Pool, of this city, then offered a prayer, after which, Gen. Wm. Vandevere, of Iowa, was elected temporary Chairman, and J. M. Anderson, of Pittsburgh, and H. M. Kingman, of Dubuque, elected as temporary Secretaries. Gen. Vandevere made a few felicitous remarks in acknowledgment of the honor conferred and gave some interesting statistics in regard to the commerce of the Mississippi and its tributaries, and set forth the great importance of the contemplated improvement of the river.

A committee of three from each State represented was then appointed as the Committee on Permanent Organization.

The Republican's St. Joseph's dispatch says: Advices from the Upper Missouri state that Lt. Governor Foulk, of Dakotah, has been summoned to Washington on matters connected with the Santa Fe tribe of Sioux Indians with the Yanktaws. The citizens of Dakotah are very anxious for the removal of the Santas from their present location, it being too near the settlements. Governor Faulk will take with him fifteen representatives from each of the tribes named.

Appleton & Co., whose loss is $200,000—insured $150,000. Jaffray & Co.'s loss is $50,000—insured for $2,500,000. Other losses are $223,000—fully insured.

Thirty-Ninth Congress—Second Session.

SENATE—Feb. 12.

Mr. Poland offered a resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to inquire into the propriety of amending the Constitution so as to limit the term of service as President to one term, to extend its duration to six years, to abolish the Vice Presidency and provide for the election of President by the popular vote. Laid over until to-morrow.

The Bankrupt bill was taken up, the vote rejecting it having been reconsidered. The question was on its passage.

Mr. Sumner intended to offer amendments excluding rebels from the privilege of voluntary bankruptcy.

The Chair ruled that unless the vote ordering the bill to a third reading was reconsidered it was not amended.

Debate followed.

Mr. Dixon, while he admitted that negroes were badly treated in some parts of Texas, utterly denied that such treatment was general, or anything like it.

Mr. Yates replied, alleging it as his belief that Union men were badly treated in the South.

Mr. Howard believed there was nothing like adequate protection to Unionists in the South, especially blacks. He had heard from gentlemen from Texas that not less than one hundred and fifty Unionists, black and white, had been murdered by rebels the past year, and not one of the murderers had been brought to justice.

Mr. Doolittle read a letter from La Grange, Texas, the home of Jack Hamilton, contradicting the reports of the ill-treatment of Unionists.

Mr. Sumner said he was constantly receiving letters from the South, giving accounts of persecutions and murders of Unionists. If Senators would vote down his amendment, well and good—he had been voted down before, when he brought in a bill to repeal the Fugitive Slave law.

Mr. Conness said he was tired of the whip of the leader in the Senate and of hearing Mr. Sumner address the Senate of cowardice. He had tried to do his duty here, and was determined no longer to submit to Sumner's lash. He thought it unbecoming and indecent in Sumner to accuse him and others of dereliction of duty.

After further debate, in the course of which Mr. Lane, opposed the bill as prospective, because of its voluntary provisions, because it was not uniform in its operations and because its effect would be in favor of fraudulent debtors and against honest men, the bill passed. It goes to the House for concurrence in the amendments.

Mr. Morgan, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill amendatory to the act providing for the safety of passengers in steam vessels, &c., by making all vessels navigating all bays, rivers, &c., of the United States, except those under foreign jurisdiction and engaged in foreign trade, amenable to the navigation laws of the United States.

Adjourned.

HOUSE—Feb. 12.

On motion of Mr. Darling, the Committee on Ways and Means were instructed to inquire into the propriety of allowing a rebate of ten per cent. of duties on all goods imported in American bottoms.

Mr. Noell asked leave to offer a resolution for inquiry by a special committee into the allegations of outrages by Missouri officers and citizens of the United States.

Mr. Elliott objected to it as too late in the session to appoint a select committee.

Mr. LeBlond remarked that it was never too late to do good.

The House resumed the consideration of the bill reported yesterday from the Select Committee on the New Orleans Riot. The vote ordering the main question was reconsidered, when, on Elliott's motion, the twelfth section, providing for the election of a delegate from Louisiana to the House, was struck out.

Mr. Elliott then renewed his demand for the previous question, but after some debate its opponents were allowed two hours for speeches.

Messrs. Boyer, Harding and Finck spoke against it, and at three o'clock the House seconded the previous question.

Mr. Elliott being entitled to close the debate, made remarks in support of the bill, yielding the floor successively to Lethlond and Noell, who opposed, and Shellabarger, who advocated, the bill.

The bill passed.

Recess till 7:30 p. m.

EVENING SESSION.

On motion of Mr. Sloan, the Committee on Banking were instructed to inquire into the expediency of preventing by law the sale of gold by the Treasury and by National Banks and of exempting from State or local taxation that portion of the capital of National Banks invested in United States loans.

On motion of Mr. Darling, the Committee on Territories were instructed to inquire into the propriety of a change of the name of New Mexico to Lincoln.

The House considered Mr. Stevens' Reconstruction bill.

Mr. Kelly advocated its passage as a necessity from the perfidy of Andrew Johnson.

Mr. Maynard supported the bill. Congress had either to move forward or be thrust irretrievably backward.

Mr. Allison spoke in favor of the bill, either with or without modification.

The Petroleum Market is steady and quiet with a moderate amount of activity. At Petroleum Centre $1 85 were refused for 1,000 barrels of 47 gr., oil at the wells. New Jury Bill.

In accordance with the recommendation of Governor Curtin in his last message, a bill has been introduced into the Legislature entitled "An act for the better and more impartial selection of persons to serve as jurors in the several courts of this Commonwealth The first section provides for the election of two jury commissioners for each county, at the annual election next October, and triennially thereafter to serve for the period of three years, each elector voting for one person only as jury commissioner, and the two persons having the greatest number of votes shall be duly elected for such county The intention of this section is to secure one jury commissioner from each party The second section provides that said jury commissioners shall meet at the seat of justice of the respective county at least thirty days before the first term of the Court of Common Pleas in every year and proceed to select alternately from the whole male taxable citizens of the respective county at large a sufficient number of sober intelligent and judicious persons to serve as jurors, and place the names of persons so selected in the proper jury wheel The third section provides that the said commissioners and the sheriff of the respective county, or any two of three, shall draw the panels in the usual manner The fourth section repeals so much of any act or acts of Assembly as makes it the duty of the sheriff and county commissioners to select jurors The fifth section provides that the jury commissioners shall have the same pay per day for their labor as the county commissioners The sixth section provides that the jury commissioners shall take an oath for the proper discharge of their duties The seventh section provides that in case of the inability of either or both of the said jury commissioners by sickness death or other unavoidable causes to discharge the duties of said office, the President Judge in such county shall fill such vacancy or vacancies

THE WEATHER, that very interesting and inexhaustible topic, has committed so many inconsistencies of late as to defy the shrewdest calculator January having failed to institute his customary thaw, left a very pretty mess for his successor, and the latter seems to vacillate between seasons of intense cold and benumbing mildness But nature has been in one of her melting moods since Sunday and yesterday under the genial influences of a southern breeze and clear sunshine, threw herself into a profuse perspiration, melting the snowbanks into nothingness and sending copious outsheddings from the hillsides to renovate and refresh the earth What the weather may be to morrow, we shall not venture to predict, but the thaw has loosened from the side walks the ice and snow, and we hope the opportunity will be improved by all thoughtful citizens to clear the walks in front of their dwellings and places of business, and put them in a presentable condition, and give pedestrians a chance to pass along the streets without the danger of falling at every other step The work is not a difficult one Half an hour's labor is sufficient to disencumber any ordinary front, and the exercise will develop "muscle" and good appetite.

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT—A new and dangerous imitation of the five dollar National Bank notes has recently been put afloat The engraving is said to be finely executed, still it may be readily detected In the genuine, the group of Columbus and his companions is composed of five, in the counterfeit there are but four—the one in the background at the extreme end and the most extreme figure in the group, is missing in the counterfeit, also, the extended arm of Columbus is without a hand Bills of this description on five different banks have already appeared, and others will soon follow

We are glad to learn from the following correspondence, that our citizens are to be favored, with an opportunity of witnessing this excellent exhibition in its perfected state, and that the avails of the entertainment are to be appropriated to a very worthy object The invitation addressed to Mr Ross is signed by some of our best citizens, and in complying with their request he announces some new features which will very materially add to the interest of the occasion Mr Ross is a Titusville mechanic, and his fellow citizens should testify their appreciation of his genius, as illustrated in this work of art, by giving him an overflowing house

TITUSVILLE, Feb 12 1867

Cyrus Ross, Esq, Proprietor of the Petroleoscopticon

DEAR SIR—We, the undersigned, citizens of Titusville, being informed you have perfected the machinery of your Working Model of oil wells and Stereopticon Views of the most celebrated oil wells and towns in this region, would respectfully solicit you to give an exhibition of the Petroleoscopticon in Corinthian Hall, at such time as may be convenient, to enable our citizens to witness this invaluable production. We are confident that an intelligent and liberal minded public will gladly improve this opportunity of showing their appreciation of the ingenious and laborious efforts of a Titusville mechanic to secure a proper subject for representation at the Paris Exposition

REPLY

TITUSVILLE, Feb 12, 1867

GENTLEMEN—Your favor of this date, inviting me to exhibit the "Petroleoscopticon" in Corinthian Hall, before leaving with it for the Paris Exposition, is at hand, and in complying with the polite request, I would name Saturday evening the 23d inst

I would further state that the profits of the entertainment will be donated to the Titusville Literary Association, an institution that is eminently worthy of practical encouragement and support and which, as I am informed, has never yet received the compliment of a public benefit

It is a gratification for me to announce that our well known townsman, James H Bunting, Esq, has kindly consented to deliver a descriptive lecture of the stereoscopic views as well as the working model

Mr P H Cronin, the popular ballad singer, has volunteered for the same occasion

I think I may safely venture to predict an entertainment that will be in every way worthy the public patronage

It is my intention, as soon as due arrangements can be completed, to carry the "Petroleoscopticon" to London and Paris, and to exhibit it in the latter city during the great Exposition in April next I am, very respectfully, &c,

CY ROSS

THE law providing for the meeting of the Fortieth Congress on the 5th of March, after the expiration of each Congress, makes that body, in both its branches, perpetual in its sessions, while one Congress will adjourn sine die on the 4th of March, the succeeding body will assemble on the 5th following, so that both branches of the Legislative Department of the Government may now be regarded as perpetual

It is conceded that Hon Schuyler Colfax will be re elected Speaker of the House at the organization of the Fortieth Congress There is no question of his deservings, while his ability is unequalled as a presiding officer Mr Ira Goodenow, the present Door Keeper, will also be re elected This gives the West the Speaker, and the Northeast the Door Keeper From both these localities come the only competition of Mr Edward M Pherson for the clerkship who is clerk of the present, as he was of the former Congress He has been a most efficient officer, and will probably be re elected

MASONIC—The Brother Masons of the late George S Jamison held an informal meeting at the Rowe House, Petroleum Centre, on Saturday evening, February 9th W W Goodwin, of Philadelphia was appointed Chairman, and Levi Mason, of Rochester, Secretary Resolutions were adopted in regard to the funeral ceremonies A collection was taken up, amounting to over one hundred dollars for the family of deceased At 2 30 P M on Sunday, the fraternity formed in procession at the Rowe House and repaired to the residence of deceased and conveyed the remains to the M E Church, which was densely packed with friends and acquaintances An impressive and affecting funeral sermon was delivered by Rev F A Squire The burial service was performed at the grave in accordance with the ritual of the Order Mr W W Goodwin acted as Master of Ceremonies, and Levi Mason as Marshal About sixty of the fraternity were present The deceased was well and favorably known to a large circle of acquaintances in the oil region

MR GEORGE PEABODY has made another donation to promote the cause of moral and intellectual improvement among a large portion of his countrymen The benefaction is princely in its amount In addition to one million of dollars, which may be immediately realized, a sum exceeding another million, of funds which are regarded as ultimately available, is also set apart, making a grand total of over two millions of dollars, which is placed in the hands of gentlemen the most eminent in the land for their integrity and wisdom, and will constitute a fund, the income of which shall be expended for the objects specified He has designated the destitute population of the Southwestern States, as the beneficiaries of this imperial gift The trustees, who are clothed with a large discretion, have already taken the initiatory steps for the execution of their trust Mr Peabody's letter to the Trustees will be found on the first page

THE Philadelphia Telegraph commenting on the acquittal on Hon C V Culver, as the result of the late trial at Franklin, says "While public feeling, immediately after the failure of Culver, Penn & Co, ran high against him, yet time has allowed the passions to cool, and he who was first reviled as a scoundrel, has shown himself only an unfortunate gentleman The fact that his acquittal was received with applause by the entire audience, shows what way public feeling tended at his home, and is the best evidence of his innocence"

OIL CREEK RAIL ROAD—CHANGE OF TIME—The Morning Express, which has heretofore left Titusville at 6 55 A M, will, on and after to day, leave at 6 41 A M The other changes are not material The time table will be corrected in our next issue

BOTH Houses of Congress having passed the Nebraska Admission bill over the President's veto, it only remains for Mr Johnson to issue his proclamation admitting the Thirty Seventh State to the Union

For the Titusville Herald
I am Happy.

DEDICATED TO A FRIEND

Yes, 'tis true that I'm happy and gay
As mortal could ever wish to be,
For my bosom has caught the refrain
Gently wafted from Love's rippling sea,
And my brain is enwrapped with dreams
That Cupid so airily brings,
And my heart breathes the incense of joy
That is dropped from his radiant wings.

And there a music, first plaintive and low,
Then wild as the mountain bird's song,
Waking echoes through depths of my soul
As it blindfully treads along
And the music chants over one name,
The name of my Pet, my Love;
And the winds and the waves breathe it too
And the stars as they sparkle above.

Every sound to my ear speaks of her
In cadence most thrilling and low;
Summer skies tell the blue of her eyes,
And her brow is reflected by snow
The bright glow of the sunset has caught
The roses that bloom on her cheek,
The murmuring of zephyrs so light
The soft tones of her voice do but speak

Ah! most happy, most happy and blest
Am I in this beautiful dream,
Where my heart is enthroned but by Love
And a Widow reigns crowned as the queen
What care I though prophets and seers
Have told me her words are untrue
That her heart will baffle my searching,
I saving only her surface in view,

Though they tell that love is forever
When truly and sincerely felt,
That the heart can but once find its home,
And so love's glowing fervor can melt;
Though they tell me the blush and the start
Are assumed but just for my eye,
That he smiles are all hollow and false
And that treachery lurks in her sigh;

Though they say her heart is but ashes,
Her soul all as icy and cold —
That death buried deep all her treasures
And she I vow me but for my gold,
Yet I know their words are all error—
The widow, my widow, is true
As she leans her head on my shoulder
Whispe ling low, "I love only you"

Let the maidens so simple and pure,
Untaught in affairs of the heart,
Alone see from their innocent wiles
And away from their pathway depart,
Though their eyes be as black as midnight
And royally flushing within
Or as dreamy and soft as Peris,
They can not my spirit enthrall,

For the widow reigns queen of my heart
And her sway there no one can sever
Here such altar to her beauty and worth
And then—to our loving forever
Yes I tell the true I am happy and gay
As mortal could ever wish to be,
For the widow has smiled on my suit
And has promised her I part all to me

Correspondence.

The following correspondence between Rev Mr Taylor, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and the ladies of the Baptist Church, will explain itself

TITUSVILLE, Feb 11, 1867

REV MR TAYLOR—Dear Sir—Permit us to offer you our congratulations on this, your birth day and also please accept the enclosed mite to increase your library, or to use as you think best, not as a remuneration, but as a slight testimonial of our gratitude and appreciation of your kindness and services to us as a church

THE LADIES OF THE BAPTIST CHURCH
[Amount $37]

LADIES OF THE BAPTIST CHURCH—Dear Friends I am deeply sensible of the delicacy and generous feeling which has been shown in your gift It has been a pleasure to preach to so faithful, attentive and energetic a congregation as yours I will, with your permission add to my library, Stier's "Words of Jesus" (nine vols,) to remember your kindness, and to quicken my prayers, that the words of Jesus may be fulfilled to you, that "with the same measure that ye mete withal, it shall be measured to you again" Respectfully,

WILLIAM HOWELL TAYLOR,
Pastor First Presbyterian Church

TITUSVILLE Pa, Feb 12, 1867

ADVERTISING—Business men of all classes have long admitted the advantages to be derived from a well regulated system of advertising To succeed in any undertaking one must make himself and his cause known to the public whose patronage he solicits and upon whose favor he depends Failing in this, he fails in everything, business seeks other channels, whither it is directed by the agencies now in operation for that purpose, his coffers remain empty, his customers are few, and his sales unremunerative. Experience teaches us that such a man rarely succeeds However brilliant his prospects may appear, however zealous he may be in his work, and however eager for advancement, if he neglects the elementary step of introducing himself by some method to the people whose wants he would supply, they will ever remain in ignorance of his attainments or his merchandise, and their trade and custom will flow to other marts already established by the means he disdains to avail himself of So true has this become at the present day, that advertising and success are almost synonymous terms when applied to labor or industry

MASONIC—Charles L Wheeler, Esq, District Deputy Grand H P, of the District comprising the counties of Erie, Warren and this city, with several members of Aaron Chapter, of this city, acting as District Deputy Grand Officers, will make a visitation to Columbus Chapter, at the village of Columbus, Erie county, four miles from Corry, on the Atlantic & Great Western Railway, Thursday, the 14th inst The party will leave on the 1 35 p m Express, and return the next day We are informed that Royal Arch Masons generally are invited to attend

THE "FREE AND EASY"—There is much complaint against the institution located on Pine street, and managed under the above title We are quite credibly informed that girls have been decoyed there from Buffalo under the assurance that they were to be employed as table waiters in a respectable hotel, and have been detained against their will and improperly treated If such is the fact the concern should be broken up It is plainly contrary to the special Legislative enactment of last winter, prohibiting all exhibitions of this kind in Crawford and Venango counties

ROSS & WERDHAMS, Agents, are now engaged taking orders in this city for Lloyd's Great Steel Plate Map of the Western Continent, the only map of the kind ever published It is a map for the student and statesman, a map for the world to consult It should be hung up in every house in the country It is properly a new Cyclopædia of America in map form

READ the following sworn affidavit of a marvelous cure

It is with feeling of gratitude that I testify to the marvelous cure which Dr Aborn has just performed on me I had been hard of hearing for fourteen years—and with a constant disagreeable noise in my ears I applied to Dr Aborn and in five minutes time he restored my hearing.

C LINDSAY, Mendville, Pa

NO CUTTING OR PROBING ABOUT THE EARS—Dr. Aborn, the distinguished Ocular and Aural Surgeon and Physician for the diseases of the Throat and Chest, who has a world wide reputation for curing cases after all other means have failed, does not subject his patients to cutting and probing or any other painful operations. Parlors at the Crittenden House from Monday, the 18th, until March the 4th

WE cheerfully copy the following complimentary card from the Franklin Citizen of this week, to the distinguished surgeon, Dr Aborn, who visits our city on Monday next, the 18th

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED—Dr E S Aborn, the celebrated oculist and aurist, whose remarkable cures have excited the wonder of the people wherever he has practised, has returned to Franklin, and has taken parlors at the Franklin Exchange

The Doctor has been stopping in Meadville for six weeks past, and has performed many remarkable cures, which are gratefully acknowledged by his patients We are aware that many persons are prejudiced against traveling physicians and we have not been in the habit of recommending such persons But in the case of Dr Aborn we are satisfied, from the testimony of some of our most responsible citizens, that he is really what he professes; and that the afflicted can safely rely upon his skill Persons desiring his professional services will find him at the Franklin Exchange until the 16th inst Do not delay Your case may be curable to day and past all hope in a few weeks

TWENTY YEARS AFFLICTED WITH RHEUMATISM—I certify that I had been afflicted with rheumatism, in my wrist for twenty years. The wrist had become contracted, I suffered the most excruciating pain and at times wholly deprived of its use, and that Dr Aborn at the M'Henry House, operated upon me two weeks ago, and entirely removed the contraction, stiffness and the disease completely, so that I had full use of my arm in twenty-four hours His treatment had a most magical effect and he is certainly a great benefactor, and the afflicted should not hesitate to apply to him if they wish their infirmities removed

Snow's Patent Liquid Packing Pump for Oil Wells—This celebrated Pump having been most successfully and generally used in the oil regions of Pennsylvania and having a false counterfeit for its durability and wear and the general good results of its application, doing away with leading and all other liable packing, thereby avoiding the perplexities of a leather packing valve, and taking all the advantages of other pumps and valves in bringing and keeping on the pressure of oil I take pleasure in announcing to the public that I am now prepared to furnish and manufacture these Pumps at the shortest notice. Below I give a few of the numerous testimonials I have received in their favor and also by permission refer to Gilbertson as to the durability, and general good results to Mr. Fassett, Superintendent of Philadelphia Petroleum Company, using them in every pumping well belonging to the Company, W J Rancie, Superintendent of Jones & Bennehoff Run J P Fowler, Superintendent of New York & Chicago Petroleum Company, C L Winant, Church Run, Wm Spence, Bennehoff Run, Mr J Hoope, Superintendent of Bennehoff Run Petroleum Company, E L Fisher, Superintendent of National Oil Company, C. TESTIMONIALS

WEST FIELD, Pa, Nov 21, 1866.

WILLIAM B. SNOW, Esq—Dear Sir In answer to your request for my experience with your pump, I cheerfully state that I have used one of them for about two months and have found them entirely reliable, having performed all the requirements that was claimed for them

The entire absence of leather packing and consequent lessening of friction in the working barrels makes the strain on the sucker rods much less, which is a great consideration in pumping deep wells, and I cheerfully recommend them to those having such

Yours, respectfully, EDWIN L PITCHER,
Superintendent National Oil Company

BENNEHOFF RUN, Nov 21, 1866.

W B SNOW—Dear Sir In reply to yours, asking for a correct statement as to the use of your pump on this farm, I cheerfully certify that on the 15th of August last I applied one of your pumps to well 26, belonging to the Bennehoff Run Petroleum Company, which had been pumping four weeks with a brass working barrel and tearing about forty barrels a day On the application of the "Snow Pump" the well increased to over one hundred barrels per day, and has been pumping at that rate ever since without ever having drawn the sucker rods to this date.

I also certify that I have three of your pumps in my own wells, viz Nos. 51 '54" and 2 which have worked to my entire satisfaction, giving little or no trouble with drawing sucker rods No 34" is this morning reducing at the rate of one hundred barrels per day.

Yours, very truly, WM BENNEH

TITUSVILLE, Dec. 29 1866.

W B SNOW, Esq—Dear Sir I can cheerfully certify in favor of your very valuable Pump I bought of Bryan, Dillingham & Co, having previously tried all manner of patent valves, with no apparent success. I found that your pump has increased my well over one half, and considering the low price of oil when it is the large production to pay expenses, I consider your pump invaluable If another could not be procured I would not take $500 for it R. W HOLBROOK

Consumption Curable by Dr. Schenck's Medicines—To cure consumption, the system must be prepared so that the lungs will heal. To accomplish this the liver and stomach must first be cleansed and an appetite created for good and wholesome food, which, by these medicines will be digested properly, and good healthy blood made thus building up the constitution SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS cleanse the stomach of all billious or mucous accumulations and, by using the Sea Weed Tonic in connection, the appetite is restored.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP is nutritious as well as medicinal, and, by using the three remedies, all impurities are expelled from the system, and good, wholesome blood made, which will repel all disease If patients will take these medicines according to directions, Consumption very frequently in its last stage yields readily to their action Take the pills frequently to cleanse the liver and stomach It does not follow that because the bowels are not costive they are not required, for sometimes in diarrhœa they are necessary The stomach must be kept healthy, and an appetite created to allow the Pulmonic Syrup to act on the respiratory organs properly and allay any irritation Then all that is required to perform a permanent cure is to prevent taking cold Exercise about the room as much as possible, eat all the rich food—fat meat, game, and, in fact, anything the appetite craves but be particular and masticate well

Destructive of comfort, and not worth a fig,
Come aged, come youth, fat, come ugly and fair,
And rejoice in your own luxuriant hair

TRUTH OF THE
REPARATOR CAPILLI

For restoring hair upon bald spots caused by over cause I may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal It will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months & I A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard Their assertions are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own experience) can testify Buy it, you will say, how are we to tell genuine from the spurious? It certainly is difficult as there are hosts of the different preparations advertised for the hair and beard are entirely worthless, and you may have already thrown away large sums in their purchase To such we would say try the Reparator Capilli It will cost you nothing unless it fully comes up to our representations. If your Druggist does not keep it, send us one dollar and we will forward it, post paid together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned you on application, provided entire satisfaction is not given. TARR FARM, June 12, 1866

COL E A L ROBERTS—Dear Sir: Yours of the 11th instant, asking for information as to the results from the explosion of the Roberts Torpedo in various wells on this farm is at hand and we take great pleasure in giving the following statement, based upon our own observation and upon information obtained from various persons in whose interests in the wells mentioned below.

First. The Tarr Homestead Company have had Torpedoes exploded in the Boyle and Kingsbury wells. Of the two wells on Boyle one had been flowing and the other pumping, nearly 1 barrels taken together, but they failed and until then were yielding but about 8 barrels per day. After the explosion of the Torpedo, both commenced to flow and produced about 160 barrels per day, at which rate they still continue.

Second. Kingsbury well. This well pumped at its highest point about 40 barrels per day, decreased to about 12 barrels, and after the explosion of the Torpedo it commenced to flow, and is now flowing from 100 to 200 barrels per day.

Third. The Burnett well. Had
